THE WHEAT.

Binding and Shocking It So as to Get Best Results.

From the time the wheat stands waving yellow in the field until it is in the hands of the miller is an important period. The cutting of the wheat may not be a difficult task, but much depends on how well the grain is gathered and bound and shocked. If the machine does not gather the grain well, a good deal of it will be lost falling down before the sickle or strutting out from beneath the aprons. Care should be taken to avoid this.

The binder should also gather the straw evenly, so that the bundles may not look ragged or part be lost in the shocking. The binder should be shifted just right, so that the bundles may be bound near the middle. Binding too close to the butts or heads will make them inconvenient to handle, as well as cause the dropping out of a part of the bundles.

The shocking of the wheat is very important, especially in those sections where rains and winds are frequent. The bundles cannot be thrown together any old way and be expected to stand the storms of wind and rain.

My experience has proved that the best and strongest shock is made in the following manner: Place three pairs of bundles in a row, then set one bundle at each end and three on each side. The caps should be placed on lengthwise of the shock and spread so they will cover the top of the shock and hang down on the sides, protecting the heads of the wheat and turning the water like the roof of a house.

For twenty years we built our shocks in this manner and seldom ever lost any wheat from winds or rain. It was often necessary to go over the field after a severe windstorm and replace some of the caps, but seldom did we have to rebuild a shock.

After the wheat is all cut and shocked it is the best plan to have it thrashed as soon as it will do. It can then be stored away in a rat proof granary or hauled direct to market. We believe it is wise to sell immediately after thrashing. The higher price for which one may hold will not more than offset the shrinkage and loss in handling, and sometimes the higher price is never realized. A person had better take a few cents less than run the risk.

BEES AND HONEY.

The Way They Gather Their Harvest From the Flowers.

Bees gather honey from the nectar vessels of flowers and plants. The sugar, starch, albumen, etc., are carried up by the sap to the seed bearing pods. To a marked extent nature is assisted by the natural law of heat and cold to produce a sweating or condensation of moisture, which we call dew. This takes place in the corolla of the flower, making it more easy for the plant to deposit its overflow of sugar, starch, albumen, etc., in the dew already in the flower.

This sweet nectar is carried up by the sap and discharged in the dew through the pores of the plant. When the sun rises evaporation takes place, and the result is a tiny drop of nectar in the cup of the flower. The bee goes to the flower and with its long tongue sips up this drop of nectar and deposits it into its honey sack back of the throat.

The bee is provided with a stomach for its physical well being back of this storage stomach, and all the honey that goes to this stomach is used for the life or physical demands of the bee. When the bee has its storage tank full of nectar it straightaway flies to the hive and exudes it into the cell. The bee is endowed with the power of exuding as naturally as in taking, so there is nothing wonderful about it except the natural curiosity of the matter.

Salute Flag at Stern of Warship.
"There's a thing perhaps you'd like to know," said a navy man. "When you set foot on the deck of a man-of-war, whether at home or in foreign waters, your own nation or foreign, it is proper to turn for a moment to the stern of the ship and raise or touch your hat. It is a mark of respect, like rising and uncovering, when the national anthem is played."

A Dog Merchant.
There is a wonderful dog in Paris whose name is Dick and who has been taught to carry wine, newspapers and messages for his master. Every morning Dick starts off with a bundle of newspapers strapped to his back, and after he has delivered these he returns for a cargo of wine bottles. His owner says that Dick enjoys this work.

The Rt. Rev. Arthur C. A. Hall, of Burlington, who is now in Europe, has been requested to hold a retreat for some of the bishops attending the Lambeth conference. Considering the fact that there are 250 bishops attending the conference, this is a high honor for Bishop Hall.

Three of Rutland's four Republican candidates for town representative, L. E. Holden, R. C. Bacon, and H. G. Barber, have decided to have the caucus Saturday, August 8, a plurality rule to decide. William Fanning, the other candidate, has announced that he will not go into the caucus, but will file nomination papers.

The authorities have been asked to watch out for a bareheaded boy who entered the home of Robert Brown in Benson recently while the family were at dinner, and going upstairs, stole $6 in money, escaping before the theft was discovered. Four weeks ago the same boy it is believed, entered the house while the women were away, stealing a watch and several dollars in money.

J. Watson Webb, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Webb, will during the present month or in September give a dinner followed by a horse show to those farmers over whose land the Shelburne horse hunt has been carried on. The show will include an exhibition of horses and hurdle jumping and cash prizes and cups will be awarded for brood mares best foals foaled in 1907 by "Rosealea," and best work team.

Christian Barr was elected vice-president from Vermont at the eleventh annual convention of the New England Photographers' Association held in Boston last week. In the award of prizes A. Allen Bishop of Newport received first, a silver medal, in the portrait class, three pictures of any size; and Miss Katherine Hingham, of St. Johnsbury, received second, a certificate of merit, in the landscape class, for which three pictures of any size could be entered.

Henry, son of P. W. Cannon of Rutland, was taught a severe lesson when a loaded blank cartridge exploded in his hands through his own foolishness, causing a wound which will render his left hand useless for weeks. Young Cannon found the cartridge on the sidewalk and was attempting to pick out the primer with a pin when the explosion occurred. The palm of his left hand was terribly lacerated and two fingers of his right hand were burned. The young man's cousin, George Cannon, who was standing near, was also burned slightly.

Wages in Welsh Tin Plate Trade.

Consul Jesse H. Johnson advises that the annual conference representing tin plate manufacturers and labor was recently held in Swansea, concerning which he writes:

"The main object was to discuss the wages in the tin plate trade. The smelters' claim for 7 1/2 per cent advance was withdrawn, and as a substitute the abolition of 2 per cent waste was put forward, but refused by the employers. The request by the openers (girls) for the payment of 'singles' was conceded. A request for the 'behinders' was rejected. It was agreed that at all pots in the tin house where there are no risers assistance must be given to tin men. As to speed, that was a question of management. No alteration was made with regard to packers, but the tin house men were conceded payment for 'waste waste.'"

CITY CHILDREN ARRIVE.

One Hundred Sent From New York to Rutland for an Outing.

Rutland, Aug. 5.—One hundred children selected from the most thickly settled tenement districts of New York were brought to Rutland at 4:30 yesterday afternoon, accompanied by Miss Bernice B. Tuttle and Miss Lena C. Ross of this city, to have two weeks' outing in this city and vicinity through the Tribune fresh air fund. The people who had agreed to entertain one or more children and scores of spectators were at the depot when the train arrived. The children had special cars and there were many pleasant greetings as the little folks filed out of the cars and recognized people who had entertained them on former occasions.

The distribution of the children was made at the depot and all seemed happy as they went away with their new found friends or renewed old acquaintances. A party of about 30 were taken in farm wagons to the home of Mrs. Jeremiah Thornton on the Killington road, east of this city, where tents had been erected and the little folks will enjoy real camping out. Mrs. Rollin Pitts of Center Rutland is to entertain about a dozen children. While a majority of the others will remain in Rutland a few went to the nearby villages.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Is the Only Possible Way of Having an Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure he or she has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
